

After The End
Teaching and Learning Creative Revision

© 1993 by Barry Lane

Contents

Part 1: Creating a Language of Craft

1. Good writing is good questions- turning questions into leads
2. More than wallpaper
3. Snapshots and thoughtshots
4. Don't make a scene! Build one
5. Explode a moment and shrink a century- Playing with time
6. Friction or nonfriction- Finding form in writing and reading
7. Don't fix my story, just listen to me- A guide to conferencing and codependency
8. Re-entering a draft

Part 2: The Writer's Struggle

9. But what if I can't freewrite?- Distinct styles of revision
10. See Dick revise. Revise, Dick, revise.- Revising basal readers
11. Voice and choice- Nurturing voice and tone in student writing
12. I probably shouldn't hand this to an English teacher- Risk and writing
13. Words in collision- Revising poems
14. When is it done?
15. The writing doctor- index to a few writing ailments